

Natalie R. Scarlett

2720 Alan St.
Fort Collins, CO 80524 517-610-4597
natalie.r.scarlett@gmail.com nataliescarlett.com

Work Experience:

Cipher Creative Productions, Founder, Producer, Writer, and Director. 2016-present
Salt Magazine, Performing Arts Writer. 2017-present
Private English Tutor and Freeland Copy Editor, 2016-present
Liberty Common High School, English and Drama high school teacher. 2013-present
Gyeseong Girl's School in Seoul, South Korea, visiting English teacher. 2016
OpenStage Theatre, theatrical director for many plays. 2012-present
B.A.S.E Camp Site Director, Tavelli Elementary. 2012-2013
WorkAway, volunteer in 7 countries in Europe. 2012
Ridgeview Classical School, Apprentice Teacher. Spring Semester, 2012

Education:

2009, Hillsdale College. Hillsdale, Michigan
B.A. in Theatre and Speech with an emphasis in Directing
See CV for conference, workshop, and continuing education experience

Community Involvement:

Performing Arts Writer at Salt Magazine
Volunteer with Weekend Warrior Film Festival
Regular writer for Aspect: Ratio Zine
Grant writer and sponsorship seeker for the Fort Collins Fringe Festival
Founder and chairwomen of the Festival of Ideas
Founder of LCHS theatre program
Local Organizer for the Favorite Poem Project
EF International tour guide

References:

Jeremy Tullius, English teacher and colleague at Liberty and Ridgeview—(970) 685-2511
Nick Holland, Collaborator on numerous writing, theatre, and art projects—(720) 688-4707
Raissa Huntley, Editor of Camp Collins (satirical newspaper)—(970) 443-3681
Dr. James Brandon, Theatre Professor at Hillsdale College—(517) 437-7341

